

ST. BERNARD COAL COMPANY

SIXTH YEAR.

EARLINGTON, HOPKINS COUNTY, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 10, 1893.

NO. 88.

ST. BERNARD COAL COMPANY

Miners and Shippers of COAL AND COKE.

General Office, Earlington, Ky.

Branch Offices.

A. M. CARROLL, Manager,
337 Union Street, Nashville, Tenn.

S. H. NEWBOLD, Manager,
345 W. Main Street, Louisville, Ky.

R. G. ROUSE, Manager,
Palmer House, Broadway, Paducah, Ky.

CAPT. T. L. LEE, Manager,
Cor. Main and Auction Sts., Memphis, Tenn.

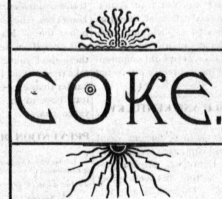

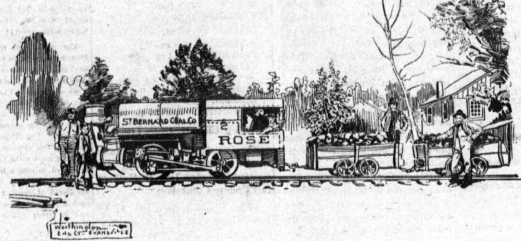

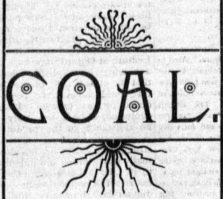

A. S. FORD, Manager,
337 Upper Second St., Evansville, Ind.

Wholesale Agents, HESSER & WICKHAM, House Building, St. Louis, Mo. J. W. BRIDGMAN, 603 Teutonic Building, Chicago, Ill.

Keep a Sharp Lookout for Fresh Items of Interest to the Retail COAL and COKE TRADE, which will appear from time to time, permanently occupying this space.

St. Bernard Coal Company.

INCORPORATED.

MINER LOCOMOTIVE IN USE AT ST. CHARLES MINE.

Famous No. 9 Coal, for all uses, from Earlington, Diamond and St. Charles Mines. Only Vibrating Screens and Picking Tables used. THE BEST SELECTED COAL IN THE MARKET.

CRUSHED COKE FOR BASE BURNERS AND FURNACES

Why buy High-priced Anthracite Coal, when you can get ST. BERNARD CRUSHED COKE for a much less price? One ton of the Crushed Coke will do the same work as one ton of the best Anthracite Coal.

ASK YOUR DEALER FOR IT, AND SAVE MONEY.

PITHY PARAGRAPHS.

Gas was first employed as fuel in 1865.

Small Coal is the name of a firm at Syracuse, N. Y.

It takes 5,000 tons of coal to heat the school buildings at Minneapolis, Minn.

Miners in Illinois are very active under the low wages now ruling.

At Jackson, Miss., the coal sheds at the capital grounds slid down hill, after having been filled.

Bestest bricks for fuel is the latest in Ottawa to enable the people to get relief from buying American coal.

In California it has been found that peach stones burn as well as the best of coal and give out more heat in proportion to weight.

The Big Stone Gap Colliery Co. fired the first 50 coke ovens to be built in the Big Stone Gap district a week or more ago, and on the 3rd inst. drew in their first coke, which to all appearances is as good as ever came from Pocahontas.

The coal business of Mobile is yearly improving, especially in steam coal. The large increase in the number of steamers which have entered this port and the establishment of the Liverpool line have tended to develop more activity in the sale of steam coal.

The Davis Coal & Coke Co. of West Virginia, will send to the Atlantic Coast a large stock of coal eleven feet, six inches in height and three feet wide on each side. By geological experts it is regarded as one of the best specimens of this character ever placed on display.

There is a lot of talk about the mep in Connellville region being restless under the activity which prevails, and they are said to be inclined to demand a share of the property by an advance in their wages.

NELLIE'S TRIUMPH.

"Keep a boarding-house! How dreadful!"

"Why, Dora, mamma is quite hopeful about it," said Nellie Dalton, in some surprise. "She thinks if she can obtain a pleasant set of boarders it will be less lonely for us."

"But keeping boarders is so ungentle," said Dora Simmons.

"How many extra servants does Mrs. Dalton intend to engage?" inquired Agatha Simmons, coolly.

"Only a cook. Mamma expects to retain Jane and Bridget, and the number of boarders wanted will not exceed eight."

"I think Mr. Montague will not have very few, if he has any more than a boarding-house, as he keeps a boarding-house, said Agatha Simmons to her sister Dora, after Nellie had concluded her call and left.

"Perhaps, Agatha," you had better go less far from home than Dalton's yourself. You know that we go in for very fashionable society. I shouldn't care to have Mrs. Spencer Hoyt aware that the Daltons were among our list of acquaintances, if the boarding-house scheme is accomplished."

For a long time Mr. Montague had been attentive to Nellie Dalton, and Agatha had vainly tried to rival her, with little, if any success. But after Nellie had gone Agatha began to feel that she was with the idea of the boarding-house.

It was a very busy afternoon at Mrs. Dalton's some two months later. Bridget was assisting the cook preparing vegetables for the soup. Jane was ironing, and Mrs. Dalton making ready the table for luncheon. Nellie was in the parlor where she had been dining the furniture.

She had just finished when the door bell rang, and she went at once to answer the summons. Nellie was rather surprised, however, when she admitted Mr. Montague, as it was not usual for him to call at that hour of the day.

He was dressed in the height of the fashion, and had brought with him a very beautiful bouquet.

Mr. Montague had frequently been entertained in Mrs. Dalton's parlor by a stylishly dressed young lady, whom he had greatly admired.

Was this the same Nellie Dalton, wearing a plain morning dress and large kitchen apron? Yes, it was the same, and he was welcomed as cordially as ever by her.

"I had no idea it was you, Mr. Montague," she said. "It is a very busy day with us. Mamma's last vacant room was taken yesterday."

"Have you company staying with you," inquired Mr. Montague, "that you have extra household help?"

"Why, Mr. Montague, there are eight boarders here now, and that is why my time, especially during the busiest days of the week, is so much more occupied."

"Boarders?" exclaimed Mr. Montague, then paused a few minutes before continuing. "Miss Dalton, I brought you this bouquet of flowers hoping you would design it for me."

"Where you looking for your hat, Mr. Montague?" asked Nellie, calmly. "I believe you left it on the hall table."

After he was gone Nellie sat down by the table on which were placed the flowers. She looked at them for a while—such a choice selection. Then she thought:

"I still admire Mr. Montague very much. I am sorry to think that he is so absurd. I suppose this is not so beautiful, or so becoming, and this apron is suitable for kitchen wear. As to mamma's keeping a boarding-house, if he chooses to discontinue his visits on that account, he is quite welcome to do so."

Mrs. Spencer Hoyt, who lives in a very handsome house on a fashionable avenue, that same evening received a call from her favorite nephew, Mr. Sidney Lawrence.

"Really, Sidney," she said, "I did not know but you were out of town. Where are you located at present?"

"I am just as usual, and I have been breakfasted with her that very morning."

"Who was that, Sidney?" was Mrs. Spencer Hoyt's inquiry as they went on.

"Miss Dalton, Aunt Julia."

"Indeed! and she has courage enough to give orders in the housekeeping line in that public place?"

"I think you have found a prize. Such absurd notions as some girls have nowadays! and yet Sidney Lawrence is a Republican."

Mr. Lawrence and Nellie were married in Mrs. Dalton's parlor the summer was half gone. Mrs. Spencer Hoyt's carriage was waiting at the door to convey her and the bride to the depot.

Miss Agatha Simmons, in floating draperies of white tulle, sat on a silk case in grandly enough, but was rather surprised to find Mrs. Hoyt there, and to find that Mr. Sidney Lawrence was the wealthy banker by whom Mr. Montague was employed as a clerk.

speedily applicants to take their places, and Mrs. Dalton found her boarding house a successful one.

Mr. Montague, with Agatha Simmons, was sometimes seen by Nellie to pass the house, but they never seemed to be by their manner to be aware that any of their acquaintances resided there.

Mr. Lawrence and Nellie had attended more than one concert together, and though he had often met Nellie when she was plainly dressed and busy about household affairs, he admired her nearly if quite as much as when she was wearing the richest dress she owned.

Winter and spring passed away, and Mr. Montague had not called at Mrs. Dalton's since the morning he had brought the bouquet, and Nellie did not grieve at all about his absence.

One day in the early summer, an hour or two after breakfast, Nellie went out to order some vegetables and fruit for dinner. There was a large store, situated on a neighboring corner of the street and avenue where Mrs. Dalton usually obtained supplies of this description, and thither Nellie went. She found a variety of fruits and vegetables arranged outside of the store, and made her selections there.

You may send home six of these cauliflower," she said just as a very dignified looking elderly lady and a young gentleman were passing.

Nellie need not hesitate about showing her recognition of Mr. Lawrence, as he bowed and raised his hat just as he had been away a moment, instead of having breakfasted with her that very morning.

"Who was that, Sidney?" was Mrs. Spencer Hoyt's inquiry as they went on.

"Miss Dalton, Aunt Julia."

"Indeed! and she has courage enough to give orders in the housekeeping line in that public place?"

"I think you have found a prize. Such absurd notions as some girls have nowadays! and yet Sidney Lawrence is a Republican."

Mr. Lawrence and Nellie were married in Mrs. Dalton's parlor the summer was half gone. Mrs. Spencer Hoyt's carriage was waiting at the door to convey her and the bride to the depot.

Miss Agatha Simmons, in floating draperies of white tulle, sat on a silk case in grandly enough, but was rather surprised to find Mrs. Hoyt there, and to find that Mr. Sidney Lawrence was the wealthy banker by whom Mr. Montague was employed as a clerk.

Poison in Ice Cream.

Reasons Given by Physicians for Its Presence There.

Medical men generally, we believe, regard ice cream as one of the least harmful forms of sweet food. It is, however, permitted by their physicians, and it is, in fact, a very popular, particularly in the summer.

It is an unquestionable fact, however, that serious and even fatal cases of poisoning occur every season from eating ice cream. On a recent Sunday, for example, in Syracuse, N. Y., fifty children were made dangerously ill as the result of eating ice cream.

There was a suspicion that the late Judge Ehrlich died from the same cause.

There are two ways in which physicians endeavor to account for the occasionally poisonous effects of ice cream. One is the presence in the compound of some distinct poison, used to color or flavor the ice cream. The other is the presence of some poisonous material, or to a noxious coloring matter, or to a noxious coloring matter, or to a noxious coloring matter.

The first is the presence of some distinct poison, used to color or flavor the ice cream. The other is the presence of some poisonous material, or to a noxious coloring matter, or to a noxious coloring matter.

The first is the presence of some distinct poison, used to color or flavor the ice cream. The other is the presence of some poisonous material, or to a noxious coloring matter, or to a noxious coloring matter.

The first is the presence of some distinct poison, used to color or flavor the ice cream. The other is the presence of some poisonous material, or to a noxious coloring matter, or to a noxious coloring matter.

The first is the presence of some distinct poison, used to color or flavor the ice cream. The other is the presence of some poisonous material, or to a noxious coloring matter, or to a noxious coloring matter.

The first is the presence of some distinct poison, used to color or flavor the ice cream. The other is the presence of some poisonous material, or to a noxious coloring matter, or to a noxious coloring matter.

The first is the presence of some distinct poison, used to color or flavor the ice cream. The other is the presence of some poisonous material, or to a noxious coloring matter, or to a noxious coloring matter.

The first is the presence of some distinct poison, used to color or flavor the ice cream. The other is the presence of some poisonous material, or to a noxious coloring matter, or to a noxious coloring matter.

The first is the presence of some distinct poison, used to color or flavor the ice cream. The other is the presence of some poisonous material, or to a noxious coloring matter, or to a noxious coloring matter.

The first is the presence of some distinct poison, used to color or flavor the ice cream. The other is the presence of some poisonous material, or to a noxious coloring matter, or to a noxious coloring matter.

The first is the presence of some distinct poison, used to color or flavor the ice cream. The other is the presence of some poisonous material, or to a noxious coloring matter, or to a noxious coloring matter.

The first is the presence of some distinct poison, used to color or flavor the ice cream. The other is the presence of some poisonous material, or to a noxious coloring matter, or to a noxious coloring matter.

The first is the presence of some distinct poison, used to color or flavor the ice cream. The other is the presence of some poisonous material, or to a noxious coloring matter, or to a noxious coloring matter.

The first is the presence of some distinct poison, used to color or flavor the ice cream. The other is the presence of some poisonous material, or to a noxious coloring matter, or to a noxious coloring matter.

The first is the presence of some distinct poison, used to color or flavor the ice cream. The other is the presence of some poisonous material, or to a noxious coloring matter, or to a noxious coloring matter.

The first is the presence of some distinct poison, used to color or flavor the ice cream. The other is the presence of some poisonous material, or to a noxious coloring matter, or to a noxious coloring matter.

The first is the presence of some distinct poison, used to color or flavor the ice cream. The other is the presence of some poisonous material, or to a noxious coloring matter, or to a noxious coloring matter.

The first is the presence of some distinct poison, used to color or flavor the ice cream. The other is the presence of some poisonous material, or to a noxious coloring matter, or to a noxious coloring matter.

The first is the presence of some distinct poison, used to color or flavor the ice cream. The other is the presence of some poisonous material, or to a noxious coloring matter, or to a noxious coloring matter.

The first is the presence of some distinct poison, used to color or flavor the ice cream. The other is the presence of some poisonous material, or to a noxious coloring matter, or to a noxious coloring matter.

ice cream thus colored were due to promanins, was rejected by the jury, but perhaps this was not very strange, inasmuch as the evidence in behalf of the defendants showed that there was arsenic in the liquid which they sold. Their expert witnesses declared that the proportion of arsenic was not large enough to hurt anyone who ate the ice cream, but the jury thought otherwise.

We may add that the testimony, upon the trial of the particular case to which we refer, tended to show that chocolate ice cream was the least likely of all kinds to be wholesome. It seems that ice cream makers, when other sorts of ice cream have grown somewhat stale and unpalatable, can conceal the age and unwholesomeness of the compound by the liberal use of chocolate.—N. Y. Sun.

A WISE DOG.

A man was lying drunk on the street with a dog beside him. A crowd gathered and a policeman finally appeared to arrest the man. The moment the policeman put his hand on the man, the dog showed its teeth and growled. The man woke up, and the policeman told him he was arrested and to look out for his dog.

The man said, "Cully, it's all right, we are arrested." The man was the instant and brilliant answer. "What have you to say?" asked the judge, addressing the prisoner.

"Cully, we're sorry, aren't we?" said the prisoner to the judge. "I tell the judge so."

"What have you to say?" asked the judge, addressing the prisoner.

"Cully, we're sorry, aren't we?" said the prisoner to the judge. "I tell the judge so."

"What have you to say?" asked the judge, addressing the prisoner.

"Cully, we're sorry, aren't we?" said the prisoner to the judge. "I tell the judge so."

"What have you to say?" asked the judge, addressing the prisoner.

"Cully, we're sorry, aren't we?" said the prisoner to the judge. "I tell the judge so."

"What have you to say?" asked the judge, addressing the prisoner.

"Cully, we're sorry, aren't we?" said the prisoner to the judge. "I tell the judge so."

"What have you to say?" asked the judge, addressing the prisoner.

"Cully, we're sorry, aren't we?" said the prisoner to the judge. "I tell the judge so."

"What have you to say?" asked the judge, addressing the prisoner.

"Cully, we're sorry, aren't we?" said the prisoner to the judge. "I tell the judge so."

"What have you to say?" asked the judge, addressing the prisoner.

"Cully, we're sorry, aren't we?" said the prisoner to the judge. "I tell the judge so."

"What have you to say?" asked the judge, addressing the prisoner.

"Cully, we're sorry, aren't we?" said the prisoner to the judge. "I tell the judge so."

"What have you to say?" asked the judge, addressing the prisoner.

"Cully, we're sorry, aren't we?" said the prisoner to the judge. "I tell the judge so."

"What have you to say?" asked the judge, addressing the prisoner.

"Cully, we're sorry, aren't we?" said the prisoner to the judge. "I tell the judge so."

THE FOUR TRAVELERS.

The following true story is related by one of the participants in the remarkable incident:

Not long since in a certain New England city four commercial travelers met for the first time at the table. With the grand bonhomie peculiar to the craft, they were soon engaged in conversation. In a few moments one of them said:

"Gentlemen, suppose we begin, being all strangers, with the commonest of topics, and to introduce ourselves and our firm's business."

This was unanimously agreed to. Said No. 1: "I am—, and I represent the house of X. Y. Z. selling glass bottles."

Said No. 2: "Well, gentlemen, perhaps it is no chance that I come next, for I represent P. D. Q. I am—, of the firm of W. U. S. dealers in undertaker's goods."

No. 4 now remained silent, and suggested that it would be well not to pursue the subject further, and that it had been well never to have started it.

After much arguing to complete the chain, he said: "Gentlemen, it is indeed a fatality. I am—, of D. B. E. and I am taking orders for gravestones." Was there ever a temperance lecture compressed into so few lines?

There was a moment's silence as No. 3 said: "That, gentlemen, does seem a little strange, but perhaps there is a fatality about this. I am—, of the firm of W. U. S. dealers in undertaker's goods."

No. 4 now remained silent, and suggested that it would be well not to pursue the subject further, and that it had been well never to have started it.

After much arguing to complete the chain, he said: "Gentlemen, it is indeed a fatality. I am—, of D. B. E. and I am taking orders for gravestones." Was there ever a temperance lecture compressed into so few lines?

There was a moment's silence as No. 3 said: "That, gentlemen, does seem a little strange, but perhaps there is a fatality about this. I am—, of the firm of W. U. S. dealers in undertaker's goods."

No. 4 now remained silent, and suggested that it would be well not to pursue the subject further, and that it had been well never to have started it.

After much arguing to complete the chain, he said: "Gentlemen, it is indeed a fatality. I am—, of D. B. E. and I am taking orders for gravestones." Was there ever a temperance lecture compressed into so few lines?

There was a moment's silence as No. 3 said: "That, gentlemen, does seem a little strange, but perhaps there is a fatality about this. I am—, of the firm of W. U. S. dealers in undertaker's goods."

No. 4 now remained silent, and suggested that it would be well not to pursue the subject further, and that it had been well never to have started it.

After much arguing to complete the chain, he said: "Gentlemen, it is indeed a fatality. I am—, of D. B. E. and I am taking orders for gravestones." Was there ever a temperance lecture compressed into so few lines?

There was a moment's silence as No. 3 said: "That, gentlemen, does seem a little strange, but perhaps there is a fatality about this. I am—, of the firm of W. U. S. dealers in undertaker's goods."

No. 4 now remained silent, and suggested that it would be well not to pursue the subject further, and that it had been well never to have started it.

After much arguing to complete the chain, he said: "Gentlemen, it is indeed a fatality. I am—, of D. B. E. and I am taking orders for gravestones." Was there ever a temperance lecture compressed into so few lines?

There was a moment's silence as No. 3 said: "That, gentlemen, does seem a little strange, but perhaps there is a fatality about this. I am—, of the firm of W. U. S. dealers in undertaker's goods."

No. 4 now remained silent, and suggested that it would be well not to pursue the subject further, and that it had been well never to have started it.

After much arguing to complete the chain, he said: "Gentlemen, it is indeed a fatality. I am—, of D. B. E. and I am taking orders for gravestones." Was there ever a temperance lecture compressed into so few lines?

There was a moment's silence as No. 3 said: "That, gentlemen, does seem a little strange, but perhaps there is a fatality about this. I am—, of the firm of W. U. S. dealers in undertaker's goods."

No. 4 now remained silent, and suggested that it would be well not to pursue the subject further, and that it had been well never to have started it.

After much arguing to complete the chain, he said: "Gentlemen, it is indeed a fatality. I am—, of D. B. E. and I am taking orders for gravestones." Was there ever a temperance lecture compressed into so few lines?

LOVERS AGAIN.

'Tis always pleasing to see true love run along in smooth channels. A month or so ago a Cape Elizabeth woman came into a Portland oculist's store and purchased a glass eye. She confidentially confessed the oculist that her husband had been arrested, and she was glad of it, for he hadn't used her well at all. She hoped that a term in jail would help him, and she proposed to go up and see him sentenced, and so she got a new glass eye in order to make a proper appearance in court.

This week the woman came in again. With her was a man whom she introduced as her husband. The glass eye had been accidentally broken and the man was preparing to buy another and "damn the expense. I want her to have just as good an eye as you've got in the store, for the ain't no better woman on the face of the earth." The wife winked the sound eye blinfully at the oculist and whispered: "That jail does him a sight of good."—Lewiston Journal.

Queen Victoria's Birthday Gifts.

There is no person in the world who receives a greater variety and number of birthday presents than Queen Victoria. Some of these gifts are of the most extraordinary character, especially those which come from her Indian feudatories and subjects. In many instances she receives them by virtue of treaty, such as the Cashmere shawls which she is in the habit of giving away as wedding presents to members of the British nobility. Cashmere shawls from the queen to the bride constituting, so to speak, the imprimatur of royal favor to the match.

The treaty which provides for the annual presentation of these shawls to her majesty stipulates that the shawls shall number six per annum, and their value may be gauged by the fact that each one of them takes an entire Cashmere family a full year to weave.

By this same treaty she is also entitled to twelve perfect shawls of perfect breed, six male and six female. The shawls are made of the goats I do not know, but the shawls have been received by the queen ever since the treaty was signed, forty-five years ago. These gifts from the queen constitute something in the shape of a white elephant for the bride, since no one nowadays knows just what to do with a valuable Cashmere shawl.—Chicago Record.

There is no person in the world who receives a greater variety and number of birthday presents than Queen Victoria. Some of these gifts are of the most extraordinary character, especially those which come from her Indian feudatories and subjects. In many instances she receives them by virtue of treaty, such as the Cashmere shawls which she is in the habit of giving away as wedding presents to members of the British nobility. Cashmere shawls from the queen to the bride constituting, so to speak, the imprimatur of royal favor to the match.

The treaty which provides for the annual presentation of these shawls to her majesty stipulates that the shawls shall number six per annum, and their value may be gauged by the fact that each one of them takes an entire Cashmere family a full year to weave.

By this same treaty she is also entitled to twelve perfect shawls of perfect breed, six male and six female. The shawls are made of the goats I do not know, but the shawls have been received by the queen ever since the treaty was signed, forty-five years ago. These gifts from the queen constitute something in the shape of a white elephant for the bride, since no one nowadays knows just what to do with a valuable Cashmere shawl.—Chicago Record.

There is no person in the world who receives a greater variety and number of birthday presents than Queen Victoria. Some of these gifts are of the most extraordinary character, especially those which come from her Indian feudatories and subjects. In many instances she receives them by virtue of treaty, such as the Cashmere shawls which she is in the habit of giving away as wedding presents to members of the British nobility. Cashmere shawls from the queen to the bride constituting, so to speak, the imprimatur of royal favor to the match.

The treaty which provides for the annual presentation of these shawls to her majesty stipulates that the shawls shall number six per annum, and their value may be gauged by the fact that each one of them takes an entire Cashmere family a full year to weave.

By this same treaty she is also entitled to twelve perfect shawls of perfect breed, six male and six female. The shawls are made of the goats I do not know, but the shawls have been received by the queen ever since the treaty was signed, forty-five years ago. These gifts from the queen constitute something in the shape of a white elephant for the bride, since no one nowadays knows just what to do with a valuable Cashmere shawl.—Chicago Record.

There is no person in the world who receives a greater variety and number of birthday presents than Queen Victoria. Some of these gifts are of the most extraordinary character, especially those which come from her Indian feudatories and subjects. In many instances she receives them by virtue of treaty, such as the Cashmere shawls which she is in the habit of giving away as wedding presents to members of the British nobility. Cashmere shawls from the queen to the bride constituting, so to speak, the imprimatur of royal favor to the match.

The treaty which provides for the annual presentation of these shawls to her majesty stipulates that the shawls shall number six per annum, and their value may be gauged by the fact that each one of them takes an entire Cashmere family a full year to weave.

By this same treaty she is also entitled to twelve perfect shawls of perfect breed, six male and six female. The shawls are made of the goats I do not know, but the shawls have been received by the queen ever since the treaty was signed, forty-five years ago. These gifts from the queen constitute something in the shape of a white elephant for the bride, since no one nowadays knows just what to do with a valuable Cashmere shawl.—Chicago Record.

There is no person in the world who receives a greater variety and number of birthday presents than Queen Victoria. Some of these gifts are of the most extraordinary character, especially those which come from her Indian feudatories and subjects. In many instances she receives them by virtue of treaty, such as the Cashmere shawls which she is in the habit of giving away as wedding presents to members of the British nobility. Cashmere shawls from the queen to the bride constituting, so to speak, the imprimatur of royal favor to the match.

The treaty which provides for the annual presentation of these shawls to her majesty stipulates that the shawls shall number six per annum, and their value may be gauged by the fact that each one of them takes an entire Cashmere family a full year to weave.

By this same treaty she is also entitled to twelve perfect shawls of perfect breed, six male and six female. The shawls are made of the goats I do not know, but the shawls have been received by the queen ever since the

The Bee

"By Industry we Thrive."

L. & N. TIME TABLE.

Mail	Express	Freight
North	10:00 a.m.	10:00 a.m.
South	10:00 a.m.	10:00 a.m.
East	10:00 a.m.	10:00 a.m.
West	10:00 a.m.	10:00 a.m.

W. W. WIDRIDGE, Agent.

ARRIVAL AND DEPARTURE OF TRAINS

NORTONVILLE.

C. O. S. V. R. R.

GOING EAST.

From Nortonville to Lexington, 10:00 a.m.

From Lexington to Nortonville, 10:00 a.m.

GOING WEST.

From Lexington to Nortonville, 10:00 a.m.

From Nortonville to Lexington, 10:00 a.m.

Earlington Happenings.

New Notes - Personal Paragraphs and

Other Doing at Home Worthily of Special Mention.

The man who robs another cheats himself.

A good appetite and refreshing sleep are essential to health of mind and body, and these are given by Host's Stomach Cure.

The more we love, the more we can see love.

All Broomed In.

Ask your physician, your druggist and your friends about Shilo's

Cure for Consumption. They will recommend it. For sale by the St.

Bernard Drug Store.

A dozen people have courage to one who has patience.

The Ties of Women.

Constipation causes more than half the ills of women. Karl's

Clover Root Tea is a pleasant cure for Constipation. For sale by the St. Bernard Drug Store.

Grateful content is a good sauce to serve at any dinner.

A Fact Worth Knowing.

Consumption, LaGrippe, Pneumonia,

and all Throat and Lung diseases are cured by Shilo's

Cure. For sale by the St. Bernard

Drug Store.

In the commerce of thought use only coin of gold and silver.

Thousands testify to the wonderful results of the Sawyer's Stomach

Cure and renewing the debilitated and broken down constitution. St. Bernard

Drug Store.

Opportunity, sooner or later,

comes to all who work and wish.

A Natural Result.

Karl's Clover Root Tea purifies the blood and gives a clear and beautiful complexion. For sale by the St. Bernard Drug Store.

If we had better sight everybody would be good looking.

For Syphilis.

And Liver Complaint you have a printed guarantee on every bottle of Shilo's Syphilis. It never fails to cure. For sale by the St.

Bernard Drug Store.

Behave yourself and you will keep yourself else out of mischief.

Cure Cures.

Health and better breath secured by Shilo's Catarrh Remedy.

Price 50 cents. Nasal Injection free. For sale by the St. Bernard

Drug Store.

It is hard to believe that sin will dress in the same, as sin rolling in the gutter.

It Lives Every Day.

Thousands of cases of Consumption,

Asthma, Coughs, Colds and Croup are cured every day by Shilo's Cure. For sale by the St.

Bernard Drug Store.

There are people who never accomplish anything because they try to do too much.

Karl's Clover Root Tea

Is a sure cure for Headache and gouty diseases. Nothing relieves so quickly. For sale by the St. Bernard Drug Store.

When a person is down in the world an ounce of help is better

Don't forget the speaking of

Hon. W. O. Bradley at Madison-vile, next Tuesday at 1 o'clock.

If you wish a remedy to bring the fresh of youth to your countenance, new vigor to your system and make you strong and well take

Dr. Sawyer's Urinary, St. Bernard

Drug Store.

J. M. Robertson & Son have employed Mr. Tom Neal as Mine

Boys, and have signed contracts for the output of their mine.

If you have tried many remedies and weak and discouraged, try Dr. Sawyer's

Urinary, and you will be cured. St. Bernard Drug Store.

Several disused telegraph poles in the vicinity of the depot, were downed and cast aside the past week, having long since accomplished the purpose for which they were originally erected.

Many and experience cannot improve the character of the Urinary, which is for weak and debilitated persons and those that are run down from over-work. St. Bernard

Drug Store.

At a game of ball played between the Earlington and Madison-vile nine's on the 7th inst.,

the game stood to the 7th in favor of Madisonville, after a both inning.

The same clubs will cross bats this afternoon.

From all accounts Chamberlain's Cough

Remedy is the best medicine. There is no advertisement about it, we feel just like saying it—Democrat, Carrollton, Ky.

St. Bernard Drug Store, Earlington, Ind.

Robinson, Morton Gap, and George

King, St. Charles.

The annual conference, of the

M. E. Church, and the M. E.

Church, South, are to meet in Convention next, Wednesday. The former will meet at Covington, while the latter will hold its session in Madisonville.

"How to Cure All Skin Diseases."

Simply apply "Sawyer's Urinary." No internal medicine required. Cures, tet-ters, eczema, and all other skin troubles, such as leaving the skin clear, white and healthy. Its great healing and curing power are positively proven. No cost. Ask your druggist for Sawyer's

Urinary.

Look out for "hangers" announcing the great Musical Exhibition of the Earlington

Musical Club, to be held at the Opera House in this city, October next. A non-resident of this city this club and its aims and objects will be given in our next issue.

Piled Picking Pickles.

Seriousness—Intense itching and stinging, most night and scratching. If allowed to continue itself, which often leads to ulcers, becoming very sore. Strive to stop the itching and bleeding, but do not use any ointment, as it will do nothing to remove the infection. As druggists, or by mail, for 25 cents. Sawyer & Son, Madisonville.

Mr. Doctor Griffin, takes this occasion to thank the people of the "gossips" in his neighborhood to the effect that his child was cured before he started to Louisville to attend the G. A. R.

encampment. Doctor wishes to say that his child was well and playful the day he left, and that he was on his way home, and was double as fast as a bowling ball. Verily, a "die by do."

FOR SALE.

Fifty-six acres of land, one mile south of Nortonville, Ky. For particulars apply to E. J. Sisk,

St. Charles, Ky. Sept. 19-95.

The weather at present and for the past few days, does not indicate the least that it snowed in Pennsylvania on the 15th, but it did the same.

Send it to His Mother in Germany.

Mr. Jacob Eshenau, who is in the employment of the Chicago Lumber Co., at Des Moines, Iowa, writes me that he uses a medicine called by his mother, in the old country, that I know from personal experience to be the best medicine in the world for consumption, having used it

THREE IN DANGER

For the people just mentioned warning is especially timely, and many more

are in danger of contracting this pestilence, and are in danger of losing their lives. The only protection is to take the Prophylactic which is judiciously

used.

In certain instances, in chronic diseases, the use of the

Prophylactic is especially

timely, and many more

are in danger of contracting this

pestilence, and are in danger of losing their lives. The only

protection is to take the

Prophylactic which is judiciously

used.

In certain instances, in chronic diseases, the use of the

Prophylactic is especially

timely, and many more

are in danger of contracting this

pestilence, and are in danger of losing their lives. The only

protection is to take the

Prophylactic which is judiciously

used.

In certain instances, in chronic diseases, the use of the

Prophylactic is especially

timely, and many more

are in danger of contracting this

pestilence, and are in danger of losing their lives. The only

protection is to take the

Prophylactic which is judiciously

used.

In certain instances, in chronic diseases, the use of the

Prophylactic is especially

timely, and many more

are in danger of contracting this

pestilence, and are in danger of losing their lives. The only

protection is to take the

Prophylactic which is judiciously

used.

In certain instances, in chronic diseases, the use of the

Prophylactic is especially

timely, and many more

are in danger of contracting this

pestilence, and are in danger of losing their lives. The only

protection is to take the

Prophylactic which is judiciously

used.

In certain instances, in chronic diseases, the use of the

Prophylactic is especially

timely, and many more

are in danger of contracting this

pestilence, and are in danger of losing their lives. The only

protection is to take the

Prophylactic which is judiciously

used.

In certain instances, in chronic diseases, the use of the

Prophylactic is especially

timely, and many more

are in danger of contracting this

pestilence, and are in danger of losing their lives. The only

protection is to take the

Prophylactic which is judiciously

used.

In certain instances, in chronic diseases, the use of the

Prophylactic is especially

timely, and many more

are in danger of contracting this

pestilence, and are in danger of losing their lives. The only

protection is to take the

Prophylactic which is judiciously

used.

In certain instances, in chronic diseases, the use of the

Prophylactic is especially

timely, and many more

are in danger of contracting this

pestilence, and are in danger of losing their lives. The only

protection is to take the

Prophylactic which is judiciously

used.

In certain instances, in chronic diseases, the use of the

Prophylactic is especially

timely, and many more

are in danger of contracting this

pestilence, and are in danger of losing their lives. The only

Great Damage We are informed

Was Done. That a severe

The Bee

TERMS: For Year in Advance, $10.00; For Six Months, $6.00; For Three Months, $3.50. Single Copies, 10 Cents. All payments in advance. No money refunded. Subscribers outside of this city must add postage. The Bee is published every morning except on Sundays and public holidays. It is sold by all news-vendors. The Bee is published by the Bee Publishing Co., 111 N. Third St., Louisville, Ky.

RURAL SAVANTS ON THE EEL.

Some Police Agents Get Life Time Honors.

"I notice that eels are little more than a question of how they propagate and perpetuate their species, and can't just exactly make up its mind how to settle it," said a New York sportsman, "but if science should ever get on the question of how they propagate, the native residents of the lake would be the first to object." The sportsman was talking of the eel, a creature that has been the subject of much speculation and controversy. The eel is a creature that has been the subject of much speculation and controversy. The eel is a creature that has been the subject of much speculation and controversy.

OF GENERAL INTEREST.

Re-Pastmaster-General John W. Walker has under consideration the foundation of an institution for the reformation of barkeepers and a friendly inn for the poor, which will be so conducted that no deserving person shall apply for shelter in vain.

St. Bernard Coal Co.'s PATENTS!

YOU WILL FIND THAT PLACE THE BEST FOR THE LEAST MONEY.

St. Bernard Coal Co.'s PATENTS!

JAPANESE STREET EMBLEMS.

These Emblems are taken from a Japanese Visitor.

The sign of the average Japanese shopkeeper at once denotes the foreigner, as, for instance, a pair of huge square spectacles, with gold front and silver sides, is not the sign of an oculist or spectacle-maker, but of a gold-beater or jewelry-maker.

OUR DRY GOODS DEPARTMENT

Consists of Everything New!

St. Bernard Coal Co.'s PATENTS!

YOU WILL FIND THAT PLACE THE BEST FOR THE LEAST MONEY.

St. Bernard Coal Co.'s PATENTS!

HOUSE PAINTING

Neatly, Artistically, and Thoroughly. Estimates Free. Address: CHARLES MCPHADEN, 111 N. Third St., Louisville, Ky.

St. Bernard Coal Co.'s PATENTS!

YOU WILL FIND THAT PLACE THE BEST FOR THE LEAST MONEY.

St. Bernard Coal Co.'s PATENTS!

FIDDLE SPRUCE IS SOARING.

The New "Fiddle Spruce" is a new variety of spruce, which is being introduced by the Japanese.

OUR DRY GOODS DEPARTMENT

Consists of Everything New!

St. Bernard Coal Co.'s PATENTS!

YOU WILL FIND THAT PLACE THE BEST FOR THE LEAST MONEY.

St. Bernard Coal Co.'s PATENTS!

St. Bernard Coal Co.'s PATENTS!

YOU WILL FIND THAT PLACE THE BEST FOR THE LEAST MONEY.

St. Bernard Coal Co.'s PATENTS!

FIDDLE SPRUCE IS SOARING.

The New "Fiddle Spruce" is a new variety of spruce, which is being introduced by the Japanese.

OUR DRY GOODS DEPARTMENT

Consists of Everything New!

St. Bernard Coal Co.'s PATENTS!

YOU WILL FIND THAT PLACE THE BEST FOR THE LEAST MONEY.

St. Bernard Coal Co.'s PATENTS!

St. Bernard Coal Co.'s PATENTS!

YOU WILL FIND THAT PLACE THE BEST FOR THE LEAST MONEY.

St. Bernard Coal Co.'s PATENTS!

FIDDLE SPRUCE IS SOARING.

The New "Fiddle Spruce" is a new variety of spruce, which is being introduced by the Japanese.

OUR DRY GOODS DEPARTMENT

Consists of Everything New!

St. Bernard Coal Co.'s PATENTS!

YOU WILL FIND THAT PLACE THE BEST FOR THE LEAST MONEY.

St. Bernard Coal Co.'s PATENTS!

St. Bernard Coal Co.'s PATENTS!

YOU WILL FIND THAT PLACE THE BEST FOR THE LEAST MONEY.

St. Bernard Coal Co.'s PATENTS!